The screenshot shows the WinSCP website's download page. At the top, there's a navigation bar with various links like 'Google', 'Yahoo!', 'Job', 'Linux', etc. The main heading is 'Download WinSCP'. Below it, two versions are listed: WinSCP 5.9.5 and WinSCP 5.10.1 beta. For each version, there are links for 'Installation package', 'Portable executables', '.NET assembly / COM library', and 'Source code', each with its size and download count. The 'Installation package' for WinSCP 5.10.1 beta is highlighted with a red box. There are also links for 'Release Notes, Checksums', 'What's New', and 'Release Notifications'. An advertisement for Intel Core processors is visible in the middle.
